VENUE

Lecce is a beautiful city situated on the southernmost tip of Italy. It is a city of great artistic prestige. It is in fact an open air museum of noble arts, the most important being its Baroque architecture. In fact Lecce is the cultural center of the Salento area, which as its name suggests is bathed in both the sea and the sun.

Situated at the gate of the city is the GRAND HOTEL TIZIANO and Congress Centre, it is also only 50 meters from the City Terminal for Brindisi Airport and a further 200 meters from the historical center. Every detail has been taken into consideration in order to provide and guarantee the conference and business traveller every comfort and service possible.
